Keith Lloyd Wedding Photography

Your wedding day is the most important day of your life.

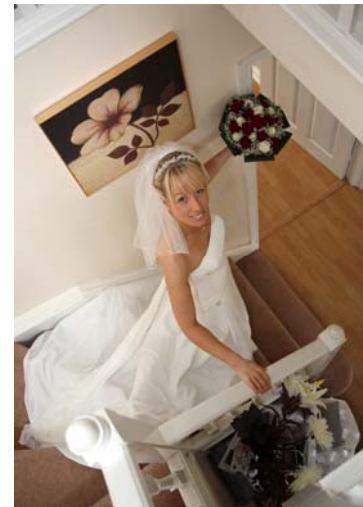

Re-live the romance of your special day with fine quality photographs presented in a beautiful album of your choice.

The final design of the album pages is created in partnership with the bride and groom and together we can build an album of memories to last a lifetime.

I capture the emotion and magic of your special day by taking a collection of traditional, candid and reportage images. The Bride and Groom's input is crucial in planning wedding photography and I enjoy hearing your ideas as much as I enjoy sharing mine with you. By using various styles of photography I can capture a wide range of images and these are discussed at pre-wedding consultations and a 'script' created of the special images you request.

I will take photographs at the bride's home, wedding venue and reception venue and make use of the best locations available for your photographs. I would usually complete the photographs before the start of the reception meal.

There are many styles of albums and pages and these range from one print per page to a panoramic storybook with custom page designs. You can contribute to the design and style of your pages, my aim is to deliver a unique album and you can help me do that. You can have creative input and that makes a much more personal album, each page can include several images, design elements, flowers and text may also be added.

With every wedding coverage I supply a DVD disc of around 250 images presented as a slide show so that you can choose the images for your album. These images are also hosted for a time on my website as a private gallery this allows you to share your wedding with family and friends.

The cost of taking your wedding photographs will vary depending on the number of photographs, length of time taken and size and quality of presentation. I quote two example prices below but the final cost will depend on your specific requirements. Contemporary styles of digital photography and specialist photographic software allow me the freedom to design creative album pages. Images can be printed in colour, black and white or single colour tones and modern styles of album are available in a wide choice of colours and include black, white, silver and acrylic albums. Brochures of albums are available on my website.

CLASSIC WEDDING ALBUM

Pages can be single images or montages of several photographs and can include small images of details of the wedding day woven round images of the happy couple and guests. This creates an individual album, a unique record of your special day. Prints are usually 10" x 8" or A4 and can be mounted into attractive foil edged pages with overlays and tissues between pages.

Price: All photography and page design with 30 10"x8" prints mounted into a standard Classic album of your choice - from £650 plus £100 booking fee.

STORYBOOK WEDDING ALBUM

These album designs are the ultimate way to celebrate your wedding day. The images are printed directly onto the page of the album which is then book-bound, the images are printed up to the very edge of the page.

These stylish albums have to be seen to be fully appreciated, they can be either horizontal or vertical, and various sizes are available.

The horizontal album allows superb panoramic double page designs to be created.

Smaller versions of the main album, for parents or bridesmaids, can be obtained if ordered prior to the wedding, two A5 albums for £110.

Price: All photography and page design with 30 sides (up to 15 double-page spreads) in 25cm x 35cm album - from £700 plus £100 booking fee.
A3 album - from £750 plus £100 booking fee

If you would like to see samples please give me a call to arrange a no obligation consultation.
